Longsword - Tabletop Tactics is a real-time fantasy strategy and role playing game set in a historical fantasy environment, in which medieval warriors of various factions fight and kill each other in brutal melee. Play either online (in a huge world with thousands of other players) or on your own (in single player mode) and customize your character according to your own play-style. Start as an outlander and work your way through the different territories fighting the other lords, or start as a lord and rise to the top as the most feared fighter in the land. The battles that follow aren't typical of most first-person action games. The innovative real-time tactical gameplay requires more than simple reflexes. The most common element of any combat situation is the massive variety of hits you can deliver to your opponent. Weakness to a certain type of attack can quickly become a fatal weakness. Fighters of different classes have varying attack styles and interact with each other in new and unique ways. As the fight is always on, you have full control of your character's attack combinations and defensive movements. As a human, what makes a champion? What defines a hero? As a person? Or as a product of his environment and upbringing? These are questions that arise in the background of Longsword - Tabletop Tactics. A great number of battles and skirmishes saw the emergence of heroes, and of murderers.. About The Game About Longsword - Tabletop Tactics Warfare History Network: "An incredibly fun and long lasting game for any war gamer or history buff." 8.4/10 - Game Chronicles "it's remarkably compulsive. The concept and the individual challenges are unique, and the sheer difficulty of it makes riding a tank for 20 miles peculiarly rewarding.. there's nothing else quite like it." 4/5 - Games Radar About The Game About Longsword - Tabletop Tactics Longsword - Tabletop Tactics About The Game About Longsword - Tabletop Tactics About The Game About Longsword - Tabletop Tactics About The Game About Longsword - Tabletop Tactics About Longsword - Tabletop Tactics About The Game About Longsword -

Your secondary objective is to stop the invasion, even if it takes bribing all your allies and killing their leaders... Prophour is a hybrid 2.5D - 3.0D, turn-based strategy game that combines real time combat with turn-based strategy. Prophour is an RTS (Real Time Strategy) in the true sense. It's as fast as StarCraft 2 and it's as complex as Command and Conquer 4. During the game, you have to control a group of units that are under your command. You will lead them through the various battles of the campaign, alternating between them and more difficult battles. Key Features: It's as fast as StarCraft 2. It's as complex as Command and Conquer 4. Turn-Based Combat. Real-Time Combat. Hundreds of Units (from Fighter Plane to Battleship and everything in between). Comprehensive Unit Tree, resulting from a complex system of skills and upgrades. High Level of User-Involvement (everything is easily customisable). Heavy emphasis on Simulation and Story. Key elements: Fast Game Play. No Lag. High Quality Graphics and Sound. Works on all platforms. Specifics: 200+ Combatants. Hundreds of Units. All Systems Expands in Levels. Automated Economy and Resources. Multiple Campaigns. "Overwhelming User Interface" (accessible through keyboard shortcuts). After fighting the war in the First War, the Negotiators stopped the war between the Super-Humans and the Terans and went on to establish an alliance with the Terans. They were to reunite, for now, because they have similar cultures, but also in the hope of creating a new generation of Terans, free of the destructive influence of the Super-Humans, which would make a great heir to the Galactic Council. This plan was executed, but with a small problem: there was a group of rogue children, who decided to wipe out the Negotiators (who had no way of knowing this would happen) and create an alliance with the Super-Humans. Key Elements: Fast Game Play. No Lag. High Quality Graphics and Sound. Works on all platforms. High Level of User-Involvement (everything is easily customisable). Heavy emphasis on Simulation and Story. Some of the
